Project information

Project description	PepsiCo Funza-Bogotá was constructing a new storage building at its manufacturing plant. The new facility included a new area for external loading and unloading trucks, and an area for the production of snacks which include potato chips and banana chips and other fried snacks . Walk ways and external roads were also remodeled at the entrance and the unloading areas for raw potatoes and other vegetables (especially bananas).
Customer description	PepsiCo Funza-Bogotá, based in Colombian manufactures products of the very highest quality and is recognized as a leader in its sector in the Colombian market.

Key factors of ACO success in this project

The ongoing technical support ACO Colombia provided to contractors CONTEIN and PepsiCo was critical to the success of the project. The quality of ACO products and success of the ACO brand through the European market also gave PepsiCo the confidence that ACO was the right partner for this project.
